THE NEED

"I am working in Bristol as 'Child Protection Visitor,' supervising and arranging for foster children and adoptions. The work is most interesting and absorbing—a full time job with practically no time for shopping. One has to rely on repeated orders of rationed goods week by week, so you can imagine what a treat it is to receive such luxuries."

(Signed) EDITH FISHER,
7 Derryview Rd., Abbots Leigh, Near Bristol.

These nurses who are still engaged in active nursing or those who have retired, need our help. We would like to send boxes weekly to the Rest Break Clubs that have been established to give these nurses a place for recreation.

We appreciate your support of this concert, and any further donation will be very helpful. Mail to Elizabeth Ferguson, Senior Residence, Hamilton General Hospital.

INFANTOL

Complete replacement for cod liver oil and orange juice

INFANTOL

1. Is a pleasant-tasting concentrated emulsion.
2. Supplies six essential vitamins.
3. Eliminates awkward and complicated vitamin feedings for children.

INFANTOL is the modern way to insure against vitamin deficiencies in infants and growing children. One teaspoonful of Infantol per day presents roughly the equivalent of 3 teaspoonfuls of U.S.P. cod liver oil, 4 oz. of fresh orange juice, plus Vitamins B1, B2 and Niacinamide.

Children like Infantol mixed with milk or cereal, or taken directly from the spoon. Infantol can be fed to any baby—celiac; one allergic to orange juice, or the normal child.

Freedom of the Press

What precisely is meant by that familiar phrase, freedom of the press'?

Fundamentally it is not a special privilege reserved for newspaper publishers It is rather a phase of a much larger freedom—the freedom of all men to speak their minds openly and without fear. The press claims no right which should not belong to every citizen in a democracy, but freedom of the press is an all-important part of this larger freedom; because, under modern conditions, the press is the principal agency by which the ordinary man receives the information he needs to judge the actions of his rulers and make up his mind on public issues. Without newspapers, or with only gagged and blindfolded ones, he is in the dark, and helpless An unfettered press is therefore one of the essential bulwarks of a democratic world.

If any proof be needed, it is provided by the record of the Fascist and Nazi dictatorships Rigid control of all sources of public information, and especially of newspapers, was the corner-stone upon which those regimes were founded. Without it, they could never have held power With it, they could do as they pleased, to the eventual ruin of their own peoples as well as much of the rest of the world.

This disastrous chapter of history should provide a warning against any attempt, by governments or by private interests, to restrict the essential freedom of the press. A free people must stand on guard not only against direct censorship, but also against more insidious encroachments. Nominal freedom is not enough The only truly free press is one which can record the news faithfully and comment on it frankly, without fear of direct or indirect punishment Neither the press nor the public is safe with anything less than this.

All liberty, of course, involves obligations The obligation of a free press is to be truly free It must be thorough, accurate and unbiased in its reporting, sincere and thoughtful in its editorials, and resistant to all outside pressure It must be both cautious and bold—cautious until it knows all the facts, bold when it is sure of its ground It must, above all, be inspired by devotion to the public welfare as its staff understands it

Such a newspaper is worthy of the privileges which the English-speaking peoples have traditionally granted to their press Such a newspaper is also the best guardian of the liberties of the people.
